currently envisaged at [REDACTED] Additional testing of Ferrite material to this date have disclosed none with Qs appreciably over one hundred.

25X1A5a1 [REDACTED] tried to buy some powdered iron cores from another company who claimed Qs of two hundred but the sale was refused for the stated reason that the quantity was too small and for the suspected reason that the manufacture did not wish to disclose company secrets. [REDACTED] is now attempting to purchase the cores for [REDACTED]

3. The test loop discussed in the last section of the proposal is expected to be operating within one week. Current work has demonstrated that the individual rods must be greater than 6 inches apart to avoid mutual interference.
